If you have been searching for the perfect microphone accessory for your PC, Mac or iPad, look no further than this professional Tempo USB Condenser Microphone.

It is an ideal accessory for recording your vocals, podcasts and music. It works incredibly well with music software and online web chat programs, including Skype, iChat, Google Talk and ooVoo. The Tempo USB Microphone comes complete with a tripod stand and hard mount mic stand adapter, making it an ideal choice for a desktop microphone. The tripod stand is lightweight, yet extremely sturdy in supporting the microphone in place. The mic stand adapter makes it easy to adjust the microphone at the perfect angle for recording or speaking. The Tempo Microphone comes complete with a USB cable, which can be connected directly to your PC or Mac for immediate use. However, an iPad adapter is required if you are purchasing this microphone specifically for iPad use.

There is also a stereo headphone jack featured on the back of the microphone, which is ideal for monitoring the signal of the mic and listening to audio being played back from your device. Due to its lightweight and portable nature, this microphone is extremely suitable for use when travelling, for students and business use. The quality and appearance of the product is truly professional. It's available in two sets of colours, including black/silver or red/black.

The sound quality of this microphone is pretty impressive, particularly when using the mic for web chat and vocal recording. Overall, this microphone ticks all the boxes in terms of appearance, sound quality and price.
